THE TRAGEDY OF FLIGHT ANALYSIS: A COMPRESENSIVE CRASH ANALYSIS

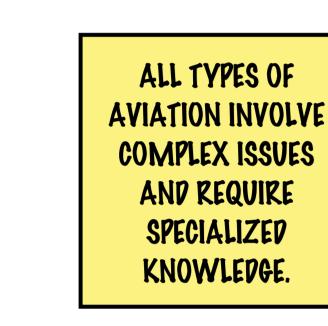

PROBLEM..

Before getting too invested in the cause of aircraft injuries, let's take a moment to clarify the terminology. "Aviation accidents" are not solely confined to planes crashing. This category includes other aircraft such as helicopters, ultra-lights, gliders, etc. Aviation accidents may not necessarily involve aircraft crashes. Occasionally passengers fall while boarding airlines, have health issues while onboard, or sustain injuries from turbulence. If you are injured in any type of aviation accident, you may be eligible for civil damages from the responsible party.
